

Runflat distances for all runflat inserts, regardless of make or design, will vary according to many factors, which may include; vehicle/axle weight, speed, ambient temperature, road or track surface, condition and/or age of tyre immediately prior to deflation, cause of deflation, driving style - aggressive/escape/tactical . . . and many more factors.

Performance claims for CBR products are made based on the criteria and conditions during the actual test (full details, i.e, weights, speeds, etc. are noted in the test results) and cannot be guaranteed to be duplicated in different circumstances or conditions.
